

Soak in NYC's skyline views from the East and Hudson Rivers! Check out the cruise route of the iconic sights that you will see.

 CHELSEA PIERS: Completed in 1910 as a passenger ship terminal, it was supposed to be the destination of the ill-fated ocean liner Titanic. After years of disrepair, it was turned into a sports and entertainment complex in the mid-1990s and serves as the New York dock for City Cruises, Spirit Cruises, Bateaux New York and Atlantica.

 LINCOLN HARBOR, NEW JERSEY: Home of the Lincoln Harbor Yacht club and conveniently located just across the Hudson from New York City, this marina is also home to over 60,000 square feet of retail shops and restaurants. Serves as the New Jersey Dock for City Cruises.

01 - INTREPID SEA, AIR AND SPACE MUSEUM: Opened in 1982, the Museum is centered on the aircraft carrier Intrepid (CVS-11), one of the most successful ships in US history and now a national historic landmark.

02 - EMPIRE STATE BUILDING: The Empire State Building is the World's Most Famous Office Building and stands 1,454 feet high. Opened in 1931 and built in 1 year and 45 days, it was the world's tallest building for 40 years. Observation decks on the 86th and 102nd floors offer guests panoramic views of the city.

03 - VESSEL AT HUDSON YARDS: Hudson Yards is New York's newest neighborhood and home to more than 100 diverse shops and culinary experiences, offices for leaders in industry, significant public art and dynamic cultural institutions. The extraordinary centerpiece of Hudson Yards is its spiral staircase, a soaring new landmark meant to be climbed. This interactive artwork was imagined by Thomas Heatherwick and Heatherwick Studio.

04 - CHRYSLER BUILDING: A classic example of Art Deco architecture and considered by many contemporary architects to be one of the finest buildings in NYC. At 1,046 feet, the structure was the world's tallest building for 11 months before it was surpassed by the Empire State Building. It was the headquarters for Chrysler from 1930 until the mid-1950s.

05 - ONE WORLD TRADE CENTER: The National September 11 Memorial features two reflecting pools set within the footprint of the World Trade Center's twin towers and the 3000 names of those who lost their lives in terrorist attacks at this landmark. One World Trade Center, "The Freedom Tower," is the lead building of the new World Trade Center complex. One World Trade Center is the tallest building in the United States and the Western hemisphere by pinnacle height and among the tallest in the world, with its radio antenna reaching a symbolic 1,776 feet.

06 - BATTERY PARK: Called "The Battery" by New Yorkers, this 20-acre park at the southern tip of Manhattan was originally the site of early Dutch fortifications in the 1600s. Its name originated from the battery of cannons installed there by the British during Colonial times.

07 - BATTERY PARK CITY: This office and apartment community was built on the landfill from the excavation of the World Trade Center in 1977.

08 - SOUTH STREET SEAPORT: Dating back to the 1600s, South Street and its Seaport District were once the world's gateway to New York City and America. After nearly a century of decay, the district was redeveloped in the 1960s into a vibrant commercial area filled with shops, restaurants, offices and the South Street Seaport Museum.

09 - BROOKLYN BRIDGE: Regarded as one of the greatest architectural achievements of all time, it was designed by John Augustus Roebling and was constructed between 1869 and 1883. The bridge spans the East River connecting Brooklyn to Manhattan. The main span covers over 1,595 feet and its towers are nearly 275 feet tall.

10 - BROOKLYN HEIGHTS: Considered New York's first suburb when it was developed in the 1820s, this charming residential section across the East River from Manhattan was originally accessible by steam ferry. It was declared New York's first landmark district in 1963.

11 - MANHATTAN BRIDGE: The last of the three suspension bridges built across the lower East River. The lower level has three lanes, four subway tracks, a walkway and a bikeway. The upper level, originally used for streetcars, has two lanes in each direction.

12 - WILLIAMSBURG BRIDGE: At the time it was constructed, it set the record for the longest suspension bridge span on Earth. This bridge is among only two suspension bridges in New York City that still carry both automobile and rail traffic.

13 - GOVERNORS ISLAND: These 173 acres were under military command from the 1700s through 1996, making it the oldest continuously operated military post in U.S. history.

14 - STATUE OF LIBERTY: A gift to the people of America from the people of France, "Liberty Enlightening the World" stands 300 feet above New York Harbor. She was built by sculptor Frederic Auguste Bartholdi and the infrastructure was designed by Gustav Eiffel.

15 - ELLIS ISLAND: Nearly 17 million immigrants were processed here between 1892 and 1957 in their search of freedom of speech and religion as well as economic opportunities.

16 - CENTRAL RAILROAD OF NEW JERSEY TERMINAL: Located at the north end of Liberty State Park, this beautiful 1892 structure was in operation until 1954. Over one half of the new arrivals at Ellis Island passed through this railroad terminal on their way to new lives across the United States.

17 - COLGATE CLOCK: This stately timepiece once graced the Colgate Palmolive plant. When the factory was demolished in the 1980s, the clock remained. Built in 1924, its design was inspired by Colgate's Octagon Soap. It is considered the world's largest clock with a 50 foot diameter face and a minute hand that's 25 feet and 10 inches long. The surface of the clock is 1,963.5 square feet and the hour hand is 20 feet long.

18 - ERIE LACKAWANNA: The former Erie Lackawanna Railroad and Ferry Terminal in Hoboken represents a hallmark of Beaux-Arts design. Completed in 1903, the copper-clad facility had fallen into disrepair by the time NJ Transit was formed in the early 1980s. It was the first place you could catch a train from the east coast to California on the west coast. Erie Lackawanna currently serves as the Hoboken stop on the PATH Train, NJ Transit trains, buses and Waterway ferry.
